Game Night

Plan to have:

Cybersecurity Trivia

Super Smash Bros U, Xonotic, Powerline.io tournaments

Feel free to bring systems or board games too!

(email computersocjjay@gmail.com about bringing systems)

Need: 2-3 people to write/host trivia!

December

- Local Hack Day
- John Jay-Run CTF
- Last General Meeting
 - Thursday, December 6th - 1: to 2:55pm

Workshops

If you have a good knowledge about a CS topic, think about hosting a workshop!

Helps with: public speaking, teaching, resume/portfolio, sharing knowledge with your peers.

Some examples:

Git or terminal-related workshop, Javascript, Java, Assembly language, How-To use forensic tools, etc.

PicoCTF

Starts next Friday Sept 28: 12pm, ends Friday October 12: 12pm.

Example Challenge:

Digital Camouflage

We need to gain access to some routers. Let's try and see if we can find the password in the captured network data: data.pcap.

HINTS

It looks like someone logged in with their password earlier. Where would log in data be located in a network capture?

If you think you found the flag, but it doesn't work, consider that the data may be encrypted.

CTF Practice

Google Form will be emailed tomorrow asking for dates/times that would work best for you.. The time(s) with most approval will become a weekly team practice time.

Also, feel free to practice virtually if you're unavailable.

Coding Challenges

Idea is to host weekly/biweekly coding challenges (Fibonacci sequence, calculators, etc) on our Github page.

Need:

1 to 2 people to post a weekly challenge and check submissions.

Helps:

Develop members github portfolios, encourages collaboration + more coding!

NYIT Conference

Next Thursday, September 27th - 9am to 6pm at NYIT auditorium on Broadway.

$25 ticket for students not attending NYIT.
